B. J. is survived by Momma Dana, whose room he slept in and where he snorted in different keys to try his best to talk. He is also survived by Momma Bethie, who loved and cared for him since he was brought onto the property, and who made sure he got his morning treat and his daily meals. He could hardly control himself when she would bring home a Pet Smart bag of toys for him to choose from. B.J. also leaves behind Maggie Mae, to whom he thought he was married, and sisters Zoey Charlene and Little Dixie. B.J. made his last rounds through the neighborhood just a few days before the end, and he was able to give one last tail wag to the family members who attended the gathering on the 23rd of June. B. J. loved everyone, and since he was the only male in the house, he was particularly fond of helping with oil and brake changes, log splitting and basically anything he could wedge himself in the middle of. He enjoyed a good game of “Keep the car from pulling into the Basement”. He bragged daily about his life and his ability to eat, swim, visit and sleep whenever and wherever he pleased. B. J. was clearly the man of the house and was thankful for all the special attention and treats he received since December. He was very appreciative of Jeremy who literally carried him to the end. The family would like to thank Trussville Emergency Pet Care for their support on the final day and for working with the Family Pet Cremation and Burial Services, Inc. to allow an obituary and tribute to our beloved family member that we will surely miss forever.
