“ I didn't know ya, Bandit- but your daddy is a good man. That in and of itself says a lot about you. RIP.

“ I never knew you, Bandit. But I do know you brought joy to two great guys. If you run into my Wendy or Cinnamon on Rainbow Bridge, tell them I'm looking forward to seeing them when my time here is up. Godspeed.

“ Over the past couple of days I've looked at all of your pictures and while human nature is to be consumed by sadness, I'm focused on the blessing and entertainment you brought to our family. You had a good life (I boiled chicken for you...SMILE) and I'll forever be appreciative of our quiet coffee mornings we often had. Rest up little man and I'll look forward to you waiting on the bridge! Sweet dreams....R.I.P. Love and miss you, friend.

“ I remember the night I kept Bandit all night. The only way to get him to settle down was to put him under the covers. He slept all night. He could be good and he could be bad when he wanted but I loved him. RIP little buddy. Aunt Patty

“ I'm so sorry about Bandit. I didn't know him long, but what I did know is that he was a fabulous dog and I always enjoyed him trying to gum my fingers off. He knew he was loved and he loved y'all too. XOXO

“ Just this side of heaven is a place called Rainbow Bridge. When an animal dies that has been especially close to someone here, that pet goes to Rainbow Bridge. There are meadows and hills for all of our special friends so they can run and play together. There is plenty of food, water and sunshine, and our friends are warm and comfortable.

All the animals who had been ill and old are restored to health and vigor. Those who were hurt or maimed are made whole and strong again, just as we remember them in our dreams of days and times gone by. The animals are happy and content, except for one small thing; they each miss someone very special to them, who had to be left behind.

They all run and play together, but the day comes when one suddenly stops and looks into the distance. His bright eyes are intent. His eager body quivers. Suddenly he begins to run from the group, flying over the green grass, his legs carrying him faster and faster.

You have been spotted, and when you and your special friend finally meet, you cling together in joyous reunion, never to be parted again. The happy kisses rain upon your face; your hands again caress the beloved head, and you look once more into the trusting eyes of your pet, so long gone from your life but never absent from your heart.

Then you cross Rainbow Bridge together....
