

Blaze Wood

April 25, 2026

Our boy was there for us on the darkest of nights to the brightest of days. Through the firsts of many things life threw at us, he was there. He was always up for a car ride. Or just a good ol hug. When he would smell pancakes cooking he would be at our feet waiting on his because he always got the first one. He loved two little girls and always kept an eye on them in the yard they were his just as much as they are ours.

Love always

Tribute Wall

HO

“ Our boy was there for us on the darkest of nights to the brightest of days. Through the firsts of many things life threw at us, he was there. He was always up for a car ride. Or just a good ol hug. When he would smell pancakes cooking he would be at our feet waiting on his because he always got the first one. He loved two little girls and always kept an eye on them in the yard they were his just as much as they are ours.

Love always

Hannah Overton - May 07 at 07:02 PM