

Chloe Tillery

January 9, 2023

"Chloe was my birthday gift from my husband in 2009. She was so sweet, loving, and funny. She would hop instead of run. She would get between me and my husband when he would kiss me and bark at him. She loved heated blankets and heating pads. She definitely chose me for her person. I was truly blessed to call her mine. Her unexpected loss has devastated us. We miss her immensely. Her sister misses her greatly. Until we see you again, I hope you're running with Sebastian and loving on pop." Cheri Reaves-Tillery

Tribute Wall

 Cheri
Reaves-
Tillery

“ Chloe was my birthday gift from my husband in 2009. She was so sweet, loving, and funny. She would hop instead of run. She would get between me and my husband when he would kiss me and bark at him. She loved heated blankets and heating pads. She definitely chose me for her person. I was truly blessed to call her mine. Her unexpected loss has devastated us. We miss her immensely. Her sister misses her greatly. Until we see you again, I hope you're running with Sebastian and loving on pop. ”

---

Cheri Reaves-Tillery - January 14, 2023 at 01:51 PM