“ Dobby was a great dog, a loyal friend and our first Jack Russell. He provided many years of love, companionship, and entertainment. He was quick to take any small object and offer it trade.

Some of Dobby's best trades were envelopes full of cash that were silently removed from a messenger bag. He managed to trade the same envelope a couple times due to its value!

Dobby helped find and retrieve his sister who had accidentally gotten out on two occasions. His help was instrumental in the location and recovery.

These days I think of Dobby riding around in white pick up with Jesus enjoying the scenery.

I do miss the old man.

“ Dobby came into our family and hearts in Anchorage, Alaska. Being a Jack Russell he was a very active puppy. The family would count in seconds how long he sat in their laps: 20 seconds was a record for quite a while. Dobby was a well traveled hound living in multiple states : North and South Dakota, Georgia, Mississippi, and finally Alabama. He had a sister that is still with us named Lucky. They were best of friends and worst enemies at times as all siblings can be.

He developed a unique talent we fondly called "The Trade Game". He would search the house for small items to bring to his us to trade for treats. He could pick up a penny off the floor. He would carry around a spoon or empty water bottle until he got his reward.

He was named after the house elf from Harry Potter and was quite a dog. We miss him so much.
