“ A Precious jewel that shines so bright
She kept her company throughout the night.
Dymond.
Loved by all her delightful presence
Greeting those who were only pleasant
Dymond.
She will be missed by all, her significant character.
There couldn't be a dog who was as near as better.
In a happier place her old blissful lifetime
She will forever be loved until the end of mine.
Dymond.

“ Dymond, even though we never met in person I still heard your personality through the phone while speaking to your mom. I know that you are in God’s hands now because all dogs go to heaven. Know that you were loved by your parents and they will miss your presence very much. Lavey, I know that words can never ease your pain but just keep Dymond’s memories close to your heart and she will always be there with you. Wishing you peace and comfort during your time of need.

*Love Always,

“ She was a Dymond, in the ruff! She loved until you had enough. And then she would love you some more. Until your heart would overflow. She guarded with a heart of gold. She watched while young until she was old. She watched for you, safe home, once more. She closed her eyes - you closed the door. We'll miss that bright light that you shone like a Dymond. You are with Doms in doggie heaven.

“ Dymond you came into your mom and dad lives and changed their lives forever. You brought them so much joy. You taught them to open their already huge hearts to parenting your other siblings. You have left an indelible mark on your parents hearts. I am glad you are now resting peacefully. You will be greatly missed but never forgotten.

Dymond as I always say you is my first Grand dog and was loved very much. I always admire how you used to greet your mama with a toy in your mouth when she return from work. I missed you soooooooooomuch.

Hi Dymond I cannot believe you are gone just a few days ago I was with you. It will be hard for me to believe that you will not be around anymore. No more coming to my side of the bed to lift you up. When I visit again and not seeing you, I will not believe that I am on the right home. Your life on this earth was well spent, you had a very long life. I will be missing you. Grandpa Kelvin

“ While I always grieve for the survivor, I'm especially sad for Dymond. Afterlife may be a let down. The joys of heaven can't be that much better than having LaVerne for a mother.

“ Dymond, we miss you dearly. You have left your paw prints on my heart. Your sisters Sassy and Bella are trying their very best to comfort me. Tears drape my cheeks, as I reminisce on our first trip from Atlanta; May 28, 2004. That was merely a start of many trips to come! We were almost inseparable, even accompanying me to work on occasions. Traveling with you required a luggage set of your own. You had a closet filled with clothes, but hated to wear clothes. (I don't blame you, what was I thinking (ha). I knew then you were the PERFECT fit. You had a “SAS” that kept your sisters in check, as they wrestled around the house. You continuously reminded them, who was in charged. Your presence was small, but GRAND! You were born to shine like a Dymond! Your lights will never be dimmed. I hope there is cheese in doggie heaven! Until we meet again Shine on as bright as the Dymond you are!
