

Elsa Tucker

January 4, 2026

Elsa was adopted in 2016 as a six-month-old Kitten. Her adventures began shortly afterward- traveling to various states with her human Jean, first living in Illinois, then on to Hilton Head, SC, and Iowa City, Iowa, before finally retiring to her home Kingdom of Birmingham. She enjoyed chasing chipmunks in the yard and spending many hours napping with her human while she worked on various crochet projects. Mornings were spent supervising her human's coffee drinking habits. Elsa also enjoyed spending hours on the front porch with her human, observing the goings on in the neighborhood. A kitty of few words, she made her likes and dislikes known through either snuggling on her human's lap or simply swatting her human's feet.

Elsa Crossed the Rainbow Bridge on Sunday, January 4, 2026. She is greatly missed by her human Jean, who will always carry Elsa's love and enduring affection in her heart until they are reunited in the next life. Elsa was indeed the best of kitties.

Tribute Wall

“ Elsa was adopted in 2016 as a six-month-old Kitten. Her adventures began shortly afterward- traveling to various states with her human Jean, first living in Illinois, then on to Hilton Head, SC, and Iowa City, Iowa, before finally retiring to her home Kingdom of Birmingham. She enjoyed chasing chipmunks in the yard and spending many hours napping with her human while she worked on various crochet projects. Mornings were spent supervising her human's coffee drinking habits. Elsa also enjoyed spending hours on the front porch with her human, observing the goings on in the neighborhood. A kitty of few words, she made her likes and dislikes known through either snuggling on her human's lap or simply swatting her human's feet.

Elsa Crossed the Rainbow Bridge on Sunday, January 4, 2026. She is greatly missed by her human Jean, who will always carry Elsa's love and enduring affection in her heart until they are reunited in the next life. Elsa was indeed the best of kitties.

Jean Tucker - January 13 at 01:18 PM