“ We lost our Frito on May 26th after a long battle of pain and old age. He was not the dog everyone dreams of who plays with you and loves on you. In fact he was the opposite of that kind of dog. Quick to take off, snappy and just distant. But he was loyal, protective and sometime silly. He was a dog. Nothing fancy, nothing notable but a dog who knew that we were family and you just don't run out on family. So we kept him for 15 years, we cared for him in his old age, and we let him go when it was time to say goodbye. We thought about finding him a new home several times but knew that in the end he was ours and we had to love him even when he was not very lovable. Thats what you do for family.

We will miss you and appreciate your loyalty back to us with all you barks at cars, fearce protection from the service people and running off even the biggest dogs to cross our yard. All our Love.

Amy, Ron, Laura and William.
