

Hans Sanders

February 28, 2023

"Why would anyone want to live in a World where there were no Dogs and Cats to get to know not only as a Loved One but Best Friends? Bella passed last year. Hans, last week. Bella was adopted by us (fortunately) at about age 15 when her "Mom" passed and Bella was much loved not only by April and me, but also by her Brother Hans, and Cat Brother Parker. Hans passed at age 17.5, and I knew what he was thinking and he read my thoughts. With absolute certainty. When I traveled Nationally on business I called home every night to speak to Hans and promise I'd be back. He could clearly say his Moms name, April. Hans loved being near water and spent many Summer days by his Oasis contemplating and gazing across the circulating water. Bella loved to dance, and both loved daily "chair time" where we would nap together in my recliner. Bella always watched with thoughtful curiosity when I polished my dress shoes. When your beloved "family members " pass only then do you know just how much their passing changes one's life, but not nearly so much as the wonderful gift of love and understanding changes one's life while they are with us."

Tribute Wall

“ Why would anyone want to live in a World where there were no Dogs and Cats to get to know not only as a Loved One but Best Friends? Bella passed last year. Hans, last week. Bella was adopted by us (fortunately) at about age 15 when her "Mom" passed and Bella was much loved not only by April and me, but also by her Brother Hans, and Cat Brother Parker. Hans passed at age 17.5, and I knew what he was thinking and he read my thoughts. With absolute certainty. When I traveled Nationally on business I called home every night to speak to Hans and promise I'd be back. He could clearly say his Moms name, April. Hans loved being near water and spent many Summer days by his Oasis contemplating and gazing across the circulating water. Bella loved to dance, and both loved daily "chair time" where we would nap together in my recliner. Bella always watched with thoughtful curiosity when I polished my dress shoes. When your beloved "family members " pass only then do you know just how much their passing changes one's life, but not nearly so much as the wonderful gift of love and understanding changes one's life while they are with us.

Hans and Bella Sanders - March 10, 2023 at 12:42 PM