

King Jones

March 1, 2026

King , AKA dinkie, AKA winga, AKA one brain cell, AKA nugget, AKA little underbite fella, AKA cinnamonroll, AKA Just A Guy is the very best boy and our best friend for almost 14 full years. We rescued him at age 19 when he was only around 6 months old; before his underbite even came to be. Over the course of his lifetime, King lived in 8 different cities, but his mom and dad knew they wanted his golden years to be in a home with a big backyard prime for sunbathing, so they bought him a whole house just for that reason. King was best known for his scandalous behavior anytime food was near, and each morsel had to be guarded with the most militant attention.

However, King was also known for how well he cuddles. King was attached to us at every opportunity, and our souls have always been deeply intertwined. King would make the decision at bedtime to press himself up against dad's back so he could watch mom but would change his mind every single morning and climb over to have a few hours of time as mom's little spoon before our morning began. Every morning, we would hear about it if we moved too slowly to get his breakfast! When we left the house, King made sure to tell us all about his day when we would get home.

King has been there through the worst times in life, the best times in life; through seeing his mom and dad get engaged and married; through graduate degrees; through pandemics; through cross-country moves. King traveled on airplanes, spent time in the mountains, in the snow, at the beach, in the city. There was not a person who met King who wasn't absolutely and completely charmed by him. He loved everyone he met, too, but especially his mom, his dad, his nana and papa, Jazz and Mini, his granny and granddaddy, his aunt Abby, his aunt Caitlin and uncle Eric, Dr. G and everyone at Avondale Animal Hospital, as well as many, many, many friends. Thank you for loving our boy like he deserves.

King's parents will never know a love and a joy quite like his again.

From dad: My dude. Thank you for bringing immense joy into our lives every moment no matter what was happening around us. You were there through every big moment in our lives and will continue to be in our hearts as we progress through life. I will miss being barked at if I wasn't walking fast enough to feed you, you laying sideways to take maximum space on the couch/bed, and your grunt kisses. I love you big fella.

From mom: My little coworker, my best friend in the whole wide world, I promise I will never leave you. I miss cleaning up your bones only for you to get them all back out 20 minutes later. I miss our little walks where you'd steal a bite of dirt. I miss my little spoon so, so much. Not a moment will go by where you're not at the top of my heart forever. I love you my buggie.

“ How has it been a whole entire week more without you? I miss you. I miss when you'd wait for me in the kitchen to finish the dishes before we'd go to bed together. I miss when you'd wait to make sure I was sitting down then rush to jump on the couch to beat me to my spot. I miss you. I love you.

“ I'm so sorry about King 🥺. He was with y'all as you grew up, and was there through so many life changes, his love and devotion to his parents will never be forgotten. He will always be with you, and you will never forget. I love you both and I'm so sorry.

“ My sweet first grandson... I will miss your excitement each time you came to visit your Nan and Papa. You would rush in the house and "make your rounds" aka check for any fallen food or leftover food, then head straight to the back door. We loved you so much! We loved your sweet snuggles with us when you had no better option, and we forgive you for all the food you yanked out of our hands or off of our plates. We want to apologize for every time we had to cough or clear our throats... even to this day, we flinch a little when we have to cough, because you know we would never do it on purpose.

Thank you for loving our Jazz and Mini so much. I'm so thankful for every walk you went on with us and for all of our spend the night parties. I laugh thinking of every time we had to walk all the way downstairs to get you because you were in denial that you had to sleep without your mom.

I'm so thankful for all the funny pictures and videos I have of you and I will treasure them over the years. You brought us so much joy and meant the world to your mom and dad! You will NEVER be forgotten sweet boy. Thank you for all you gave our family!

“ Nothing will compare to the time that we had to run out and buy all new bedding because we gave into his every want while Kalea was out of town and fed him so much steak that his delicate little system rejected it...at 3am. Also you should never underestimate his cat like agility and speed, the fastest hamburger snatcher in the history of dogs! Kingston Jamaica was one of a kind who was completely devoted to and loved his mom and dad, and tolerated his grandfather who called him everything but King. You will definitely be missed my little dude.

“ My pal !! Every moment spent with you was a joy, even when I was digging chicken bones out of your throat. You were the slyest, quickest, long necked food thief that I have ever met. I hope you are having fun wrestling with Mini and bugging Jazz. Love you lil buddy.

“ my binkle boy!! i'll miss king's dirt breath after he spent 1-5 hours in the backyard eating dirt (despite his mom getting onto him MULTIPLE times), the worlds best buddy boy wisses, & the oscar worthy whines that had mariah carey quaking in her boots. King's mom would take the BEST pictures of him in his onesies, costumes, and silly sleeping positions (see the attached photos for my most favorite costumes of his). The best is when anyone would eat, king would have to get locked down in mom or dads lap 😂 i will miss how king always kept us on his toes and how fun he made every day, how he had to be apart of game nights in his moms lap, how he co-conspired with Mini & Jazz to access food his little legs couldn't reach. King was, and will always be, the very best boy in the world.
