AN

“ Kona, aka Da-Kones, kone-kone, kony, kony-kones passed away at the age of 13.

Dad and I, Anthony, were lucky enough to find her at a local animal shelter when she about 2. We knew then and there that we had to take her home. She was a very well trained and playful dog; the perfect dog. After my grandfather, BRobert, passed away she spent the next few years with my grandmother. Kona was a blessing to her, helping her through her final years. She then came back Home.

She spent many days being lazy, playful, hiking on some camping trips, eating a bunch of scraps, sleeping in the bed when she wasn't suppose to, sleeping in the hammock with Dad, and so on.

I believe she had a very good life and I'm certainly thankful she could be a part of our family. I know she is happier than ever up there pestering Dad like she always liked to do!

A Dog is the only creature that loves you more than themselves.
