“ All my memories are beautiful and are the most natural true deep,as if she and I were one.The pure joy she filled my heart with,and I her. Lilly my sweet angel,came into my life at a point where I was so empty ,sad,and broken .I had been disconnected from everything,i remember the day she came,she came ..this tiny little black and white ball of happiness.It all came rushing back,love at first sight,i knew she was there for me,God sent me this precious gift,She saved me. Daily.This is so hard,at times I feel empty and dark. she saved me from this.....my life..years of abuse and mental abuse.It all came back ,she showed me love, showed me friendship,she is the only love I know. I miss her more than I can even imagine,I want her back,the almost unbearable hurt I feel ,its as if my heart has been ripped out. Lilly my little shadow,i love you so much,death I have felt loss before but not like this.
