

Mag & Bo England

March 6, 2023

"I rescued Bo and Mag's mother in 2002 and after few weeks watched her give birth to Bo, Mag and 4 other siblings. I ended up keeping Bo, Mag and one other female sibling (Princess) which looked like Mag but with long hair. Not too long after having their mother fixed, she went missing and I never saw her again. I then had Bo, Mag and Princess. About 5 years ago unfortunately, Princess went missing just like her mother had years before. I then had Bo & Mag left. These two cats loved each other and me unconditionally and I loved them just the same. About a year ago, Mag's health really started to go and Bo also started showing signs of dementia. The time came when I knew the right thing to do was to send them home to be with God. I knew they would be healed and I wanted them to continue to be together. Since they had been together for over 20 years, I decided to have them cremated together and keep their remains with me. I loved these two cats with all my heart and it was really hard to let them go but I knew I was being unfair and selfish to try to keep them with me any longer. I hope they are together now and know how much I loved them and why I decided to send them home! Papa loves you babies and I will see you again one day!" - Vernon England
