Max was Carrin terrier/Daushaund. He lived a very long life of 17 years. When he was younger he liked to play fetch and root out rodents. He was also an escape artist that required extra reinforcement to keep him in the yard. He will be missed but he was deaf, blind, and suffering from seizures and is no longer suffering.

Max was about 1 year old when Kelly adopted him from the shelter. Prior to that he was a street dog just roaming around. He was very protective of the house, but later in life he was more subdued and let the other dogs be the property managers. I started taking Max to flip properties where he always wanted to be next to me while I was working. We didn't want him to be home alone all day. I would always pet him and scratch his cheeks when I was working on the floor at his level. Sometimes he even helped me solve some problems! He is greatly missed.
