"Max, Maxwell, he was always happy and always ready to play. After I had my accident he was always next to me either when I was outside or in the house on the couch not feeling so hot he was always there. He was also my sleeping buddy for a little while when he betrayed his mom lol. He was however there to help his mom mourn the passing of his brother and sister here recently. I'm sure that his brothers and sisters are missing him now. Love you MAX" -
