“ Nothing new but just thinking of you. To some people you may have been "just a dog" but not me. You are much more than that. I say this like you can read this but idk how to fix this hurt heart of mine. I miss you every single day and it's not getting any better. I still cry, still think of you, still wonder what went wrong, how I could have saved you, etc...maybe God just wanted you back..I would like to think he knew how awesome you are... I can say you were different than any other dog....well I love you my sweet sweet boy!

“ My sweet Michael... The day we lost you was awful. When I walked down the steps I knew something was wrong. Had it only been an April Fools Day joke. I think of you all the time every single day. I miss your beautiful face. I miss you looking in my eyes like you were looking into my soul. I just miss you my sweet momma's boy. I will never ever forget you and a part of me left that day with you. We will meet again on the Rainbow Bridge. I love you my boy. Michelle is always looking for you. I'm so glad you came in my life. When it thunders I think it's you chasing a laser light just like you did before you left. I'm sorry if you were hurting because we took you to the vet, gave you meds and we tried to save you. Sorry we failed. Your in heaven hopefully with my mom and barbie and nonuke. My heart hurts with out you.
