“ Molly came to us when she was six months old. It was going to be just a trial to see how things would go. But from the very first moment she was here we knew it was meant to be. Molly brought such joy and happiness to our lives. When Betty passed away, Molly continued to give me joy and comfort. She was such a loving, caring, sweet baby. Always happy to see you and always giving sweet kisses. Now I believe she has joined Betty in heaven and that one day I will see them again. I will forever have her in my heart.
