“ Momma was the sweetest grey cat in the world. She was feral and showed up at my house nearly 13 years ago. She had the soul of another much loved grey cat, I am sure of it. We tamed her after about 5 years and then she became an indoor cat for the rest of her too short life. I will always treasure her loud purrs and the way she would sleep like a scarf around my neck. RIP Momma Girl. You are no longer hurting.
