"I found Nemo on the streets come I guess about 6 years ago. He was an abandoned pitbull that someone left on the streets. I took him home and he got along with my other dogs right away. However he had a bad skin condition from the time I got him, But he was almost loving and kind family member that you could have. He was never a bad boy. I hate the cancer took him away I love him dearly and will always miss him." - Ira Lucas
