“ Onyx was my beloved pet for 17 years. He always knew when to console me and was always there right when I needed him. He is gone through some of the worst times of my life with me. I really don't think I would have made it without him. When his brother and Litter Mate Morgan passed away at 4 years old I told him he had to live forever. He really tried and didn't want to let go. When he did he took my heart with him. I feel broken and unrepairable. So much here reminds me of him, the house is so empty. I miss him terribly and would give anything to be able to kiss him on his forehead or have him lay on my lap at night one more time. He took a huge piece of me with him when he left. I look forward to the day I get to see him and Morgan again under the Rainbow Bridge.
