“ As you take your final ride over the rainbow bridge, just know that you will always live on in our hearts Oscar. Over the last almost twelve years, you have been a constant part of our lives. We'll miss your excited barks every time you thought we were going to for a ride. Over the last few days, there have been reminders of you in everything we do and everywhere we look, from your morning wake up stretches, to racing to be the first one in the bed so you could get your spot, to the leashes and water bowls in each car, just waiting on you to get in the back seat You were one loved puppy and you will be greatly missed.
