

Patsy Mechalske

November 3, 2022

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

MT

“ Best friends

Matthew Tochtenhagen - November 08, 2022 at 09:27 PM

MT

“ Patsy left more than a mark on me

Matthew Tochtenhagen - November 08, 2022 at 09:14 PM

MT

“ She was so annoyed with me this day. We had come to Wellington from an air bnb after moving. She is giving me the side eye - as of to really.... this now? It's a good thing she has a sense of humor.

Matthew Tochtenhagen - November 08, 2022 at 09:05 PM

MT

“ I retrospect Patsy was the voice of reason in our home. She not only kept Winston in-line, she brought James and closer. I knew that she ran the house when James was sick in St Petersburg- she saw that he was not feeling well and stayed next to him until he was asleep. She then came to the living and laid between my legs. She always made sure we both were ok-regardless of the circumstances.

Patsy is a smart dog. We took her to obedience school and when we went to pick up Winston she stayed with the instructor. I'm 100% sure that she was pissed we left her but more so annoyed that we came back with moose (Winston). She wasn't annoyed long as she taught Winston everything. They were inseparable. Patsy ran the show but there was nothing Winston wouldn't do for her.

My world is a little more dark without these two, but I know that they are together still and that makes it a little bit easier.

Matthew Tochtenhagen - November 08, 2022 at 09:01 PM

MT

“ Matthew Tochtenhagen lit a candle in memory of Patsy Mechalske

Matthew Tochtenhagen - November 08, 2022 at 08:46 PM

JM

“ James Mechalske lit a candle in memory of Patsy Mechalske

James Mechalske - November 08, 2022 at 08:44 PM

JM

“ Patsy was born on August 1st, 2014, she was the last in her litter to find her home but I was lucky that she was. Patsy was smart, with a great French Bulldog personality and stubborn. One year after getting Patsy we went and got a second Frenchy, Winston, to help with what we assumed was separation anxiety but it was more likely she wanted to have a partner in crime. Patsy and Winston spent the following 7 years traveling from Key West, FL to St. Pete, Delray Beach, Parrish AL, back down to Wilton Manors FL. Patsy was the brains and beauty of the two Frenchies and Winston the brawn however, Patsy was fearless and wasn't afraid of any dog, regardless of size. I remember for the first 8-9 months we didn't think she could bark, because she never made a sound so we encouraged her to get excited when the doorbell rang or if she saw one of us coming home through the window...the result was a ear piercing bark that most days would give nails on a chalkboard a run for its money. Patsy was special in ways too hard to articulate accurately, she will always have a piece of my heart. My little "Bug" died suddenly on November 3rd, 2022, far too soon.

James Mechalske - November 08, 2022 at 07:34 PM

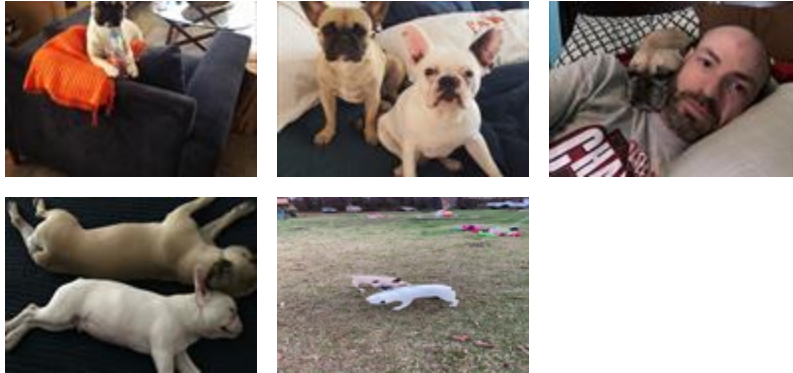

JM

“ I love ya Bug!

James Mechalske - November 08, 2022 at 07:33 PM

JM

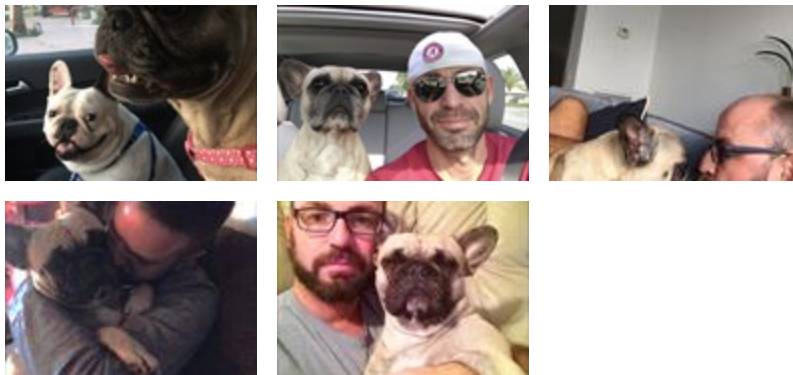

“ 34 files added to the tribute wall

James Mechalske - November 08, 2022 at 07:21 PM

JM

“ 38 files added to the tribute wall

James Mechalske - November 08, 2022 at 06:58 PM