“ Although we only had one short visit with you, it was memorable. I will never forget the look on your mommy’s face when she realized you slept with Vanessa and not her! You brought so much joy to your mom and you completely deserved the wonderful life she gave you these past 1 1/2 years. Rest In Peace beautiful Pix...

“ Dear little Pix. Strong and resilient. I met Pix when I talked to her (I do animal communication) at the start, when Jackie rescued her. How beautifully she rose from her past experience like a phoenix, over time.
Jackie's love, persistence and healing abilities brought Pix to life, as did the love as her dog family, Gypsy and Joker.
Pix thrived in Jackie's care, living a life as a senior, but hardly acted like a hospice dog.
She touched all of our hearts forever. I will remember how she became a little ambassador, even wonderful with kids! I will forever feel the love and warmth she exuded in those photos of her snuggling up with Jackie and her siblings.
Her story proves that love is a miracle.
Bless you Pix.
Bless you Jackie.
It was a privilege to communicate with Pix and I will keep her beloved memory in my heart.

“ My dearest Pix. When I brought you home, I had no idea what to do with you. You were so tiny, so sick and old, and a total unknown. How old were you? Old. 3 lbs. Sick with something but who knows what. Obviously bred for years and years, but had you ever been properly vetted? Who knows. And I'd never had a chihuahua -- I'd never had an animal that small that wasn't going to get bigger.

When you survived your first big health hurdle, I knew your spirit was larger than your body and we'd somehow figure it out together. I didn't know how long I'd have you for - hospice is always a crapshoot -- and were you really hospice or just old? And each time your body tried to take you out, your spirit rallied. You taught me more about perseverance and strength through adversity than any human ever has.

Little girl, you blessed me with a year and a half of joy. Even though so much of it was filled with medical needs and complicated matters, I hope you know just how much I adored you and tried to show you what love really was and to make up for all those years of neglect you endured. You were love and strength and beauty in a small but mighty package and your absence is felt by many.

Joker and Gypsy Kale love and miss you too. So much love for you, my sweetest little squirt.

*Kisses,
Your Mama*

“ Thank you, Pix, for being such a huge blessing in such a small and complicated package. You were loved by many, but by none as much as your foster Mom.

“ Hail the furry traveler. Pix was such an amazing spirit! When I asked her Mom for help with a temperament test she brought Pix for the small dog test. Wouldn't you know that little diva could care less that a strange 70 lb pitbull was mere feet away. What an amazing little girl!
