“ Rascal you were the coolest cat 🐾 I've ever known. It was my HONOR to be your Aunt Chanda!! You were so very special from your Big Beautiful Copper eyes all the way down to the tip of your beautiful tail. Like your Mom I was also a huge fan of those pink toes and nose!! You will be missed but NEVER forgotten. Love you big!!!

“ Rascal was a bright light in his families life. He comforted, calmed, made them laugh and was a constant source of happiness. No amount of time with him would have been enough. Sending love and prayers to Tangie and Jamie. “What is grief, if not love preserving.” You are missed Rascal.

“Rascal (aka Bubster, Boo Bear, Boobie, Buster Brown, Bubby, Loverboy) was my best friend. We found Rascal and his sister, Grayce (aka Bell Bug, Snuggle Bug, Love Bug) when they were kittens in July 2011.

Rascal was my baby. He was the cat I had always wanted. His personality was as big as his 19 pound body. He had a big tail, big paws and the loudest purr you have ever heard. His love was just as big and he mostly chose to love his Mommy more than anyone. I loved him more than I could every describe. He was my buddy, my snuggle partner, my soul mate, and it was always a treat when Rascal wanted to sit in my lap and stretch out without a care in the world.

He would grab my hands and fingers and lick them as he purred louder than any other sound in the house. He was a chill and cool cat, but dang he sure did love to eat! He'd wake me up in the middle of the night meowing like he's starving. And he wouldn't stop most nights until I'd get up to give him some "scooby snacks". And rest assured he'd wake me up an hour later bc it was 5:30 and time for his fan food.

Rascal loved chilling on the screened in deck, either in a cushioned chair, the metal table where he'd grab the knob, or resting on his favorite rock. He would spend most days in the dining room chair - and not sure how he never fell out as he was so big. At night he had a special bed tucked back in my closet. Boy, did he love a fire and resting right in front of it in the winter months. He most recently loved his fluffy bed I bought him in March 2022, right before he passed.

My baby began sneezing and coughing in late 2021. We took him to the vet but assumed it was allergies or a cold. When it got worse, we took him in Feb 2022. The X-ray showed enlarged heart and very congested lungs. We immediately reached out to get him into a heart specialist. Rascal was diagnosed at Auburn University in March 2022 with HCM (heart disease). But they were more concerned with his lungs so they scheduled another appointment April 26, 2022. We trusted our baby for two nights at Auburn. I left my baby purring and his happy self. But unfortunately all their tests and meds were too much and my baby passed on Thursday, April 28, 2022. We visited him that morning with the news he'd still be coming home that day. That wasn't the case. Luckily we were there to hold my baby that evening when they called to say my baby was worse and may not make it through the night. I held my baby and cried like I've never cried in my life.

I am still in disbelief. I still cry daily. I miss my baby boy and I'll never stop mourning losing him unexpectedly. It was traumatic. It was not how my baby deserved to die. He deserved better from Auburn University. I'm forever broken. I want a do over. I want my baby back.

Rascal, I love you sweet boy. Until I hold you again...

Rascal had an amazing life with his amazing chosen person. He knew love, kindness, compassion, happiness and joy because of you. The time we get with our babies is never enough, and you were definitely robbed of more time. I will never understand why as it's so unfair. I believe you two will be reunited someday where you can cuddle together forever. I love you and I love hearing about Rascal. He was so handsome and sweet.
