Thank you very much, Scott. You're completely correct. He was like my child. I take comfort in the fact that he lived such a great life. :)

“ As of 10:30am on Friday, January 30th 2015, our wonderful Rocky has passed away. I was at work and Palmer was home with Rocky. He had given him his meds and was getting his food ready for him. When Palmer returned with the food, Rocky was unresponsive with no pulse. Palmer tried to do emergency CPR to no avail.

We are at a complete loss for words. I, personally, have never been in so much pain.

Rocky was cremated at Family Cremation and Burial Services at 3pm January 30th, 2015. We brought him home in the most beautiful urn I've ever seen. It is a small pewter urn with silver paw prints around it. They also included a small hair sample of his and an imprint of his paw on a small piece of clay. We got to be there with Rocky throughout the entire process, which was definitely a challenge, but we would never have left him.

He now rests in his beautiful urn next to a photo of him drawn by an artist with his hair sample and paw print.

My beautiful baby is finally at peace and I think that is all a mother could ever ask for.
