

Roxie Stilwell

February 18, 2026

Roxie was well loved when she came home with us in November of 2010. She was attached to my side from day one. She was loyal, loving, and patient. She allowed us to dress her up, hold her like a baby, and loved to cuddle with her humans. She was loved by anyone who met her, and once you had her trust she loved you forever. Because of Roxie I met one of my best human friends, and got through some rough spots in life because of them. Roxie was my best friend for 15 years, and she will always have a special place in my heart. Dogs are 1 of 1, you can get the same breed, they can look exactly alike, but they will never be the exact same. Roxie is loved and will be missed, because ill never have such a wonderful dog like her again

Tribute Wall

KA

“ 2 files added to the tribute wall

Kai - February 27 at 12:13 AM

MC

“ Roxie was one of the sweetest dogs I've ever had the privilege of meeting. She helped bring me and her human (Jonathan) together and me and him are more like brothers than friends now. I id have to share my new best friend with his true best friend, Roxie. I look back on the walks around the neighborhood, chasing her down when she got loose, and how she loved all the attention we gave her, but above all the way she made us all feel while around her, and how happy and bonded her and Jonathan were. She was a once in a lifetime dog and will be missed dearly.

Matthew Chandler - February 26 at 04:55 PM

ES

“ Almost 16 years ago, Jonathan was grounded and had to go with me on all my errands. One Saturday we had to go to the pet store to get Princess Aggie something. They just happen to be hosting a pet adoption event. Jonathan wandered over to look at the dogs while I shopped. In a corner was a lonely puppy, almost 6 months old. She instantly was attached to Jonathan and I was dead set not to be a 2 dog family. But both Jonathan and the director of the adoption event had other plans. We took that scared little puppy home and named her Roxie. And so it began. At first, we were not sure if Aggie would share us with her but she even won Aggie over. Days spent outside playing with Aggie and her boy. Nights curled up next to him. Sick days where she would not leave his side. We lost Aggie and she was now the alone. We got 2 more dogs and she was the leader of the pack. She taught Sammy and Delta how to be our dogs. But she was always Jonathan's and Jonathan was always hers. She would wait for him when he went to college and when he got home she would light up ! This past Wednesday we had to let her go. All the tears and hurt poured out of Jonathan as he said his final goodbye made my heart shattered as I watched him say goodbye to his best friend.

Emily Stilwell - February 26 at 04:45 PM

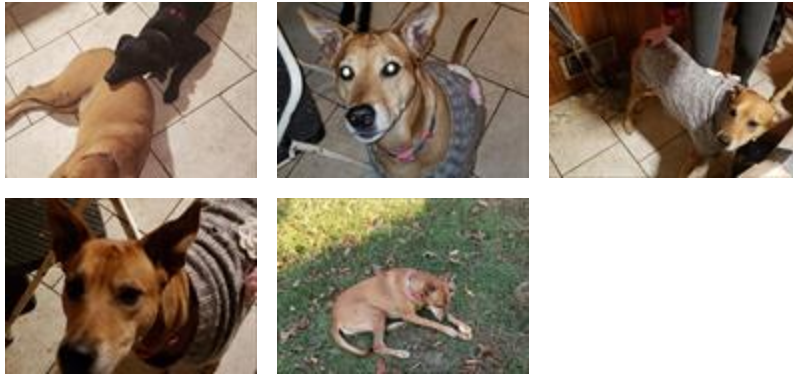

JS

“Roxie was an amazing dog who was well loved, very spoiled, but most of all was loyal to her humans. She would let us dress her up in anything we wanted to, and never complain. She would let us carry her around like a baby and love every minute of it. She introduced me to my best friend by running out my front door, and led me on many more unplanned adventures. She loved playing with the cats, cuddling up and sleeping next to you, car rides, and running, lots and lots of running. Roxie had two wonderful boys come into her life who she protected the best she could, as long as she could cuddle with them. You could find roxie on the couch most days relaxing and waiting for us to come home. Her favorite time of day was when she was around us. Roxie is well loved in my household, and will always be remembered for how wonderful she was. In all 15 years of her life she only bit me once and that was in the last 3 months of her life because she didnt want to take some medication. I love you Rox, but now its time to go play where your hips dont hurt, and wait for me to come give you love. Goodnight sweet princess, ill see you in the morning

Jonathan Stilwell - February 26 at 04:39 PM

JS

“ Roxie was well loved when she came home with us in November of 2010. She was attached to my side from day one. She was loyal, loving, and patient. She allowed us to dress her up, hold her like a baby, and loved to cuddle with her humans. She was loved by anyone who met her, and once you had her trust she loved you forever. Because of Roxie I met one of my best human friends, and got through some rough spots in life because of them. Roxie was my best friend for 15 years, and she will always have a special place in my heart. Dogs are 1 of 1, you can get the same breed, they can look exactly alike, but they will never be the exact same. Roxie is loved and will be missed, because ill never have such a wonderful dog like her again

Jonathan Stilwell - February 26 at 04:31 PM