

Roxy Towery

April 28, 2016

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

Ashley
Towery

“ 5 files added to the tribute wall

Ashley Towery - May 09, 2016 at 06:13 PM

AT

“ There are too many memories to share.. The ones that stand out is her loving the ocean and biting at the waves and how she wasn't a good swimmer so when Taj got in she would just bark and when I got in she would immediately come to save me and start drowning. She was the best dog when I lived alone, my protector and best friend. she was the best dog when I brought all my babies home, she was even the best dog while she was in extreme pain with cancer, would not leave my side and insisted to follow me everywhere even though she only had 2 and 1/2 good legs. My favorite days were when it was just me and her planting flowers and listening to music, just sitting in the sunshine. She has shown me what unconditional love feels like and I will never forget that. She was mine and I was hers for 12 years. Thank you Lord for blessing me with that.

ashley towery - May 07, 2016 at 02:53 PM