“Rubin, aka “the Judge”, was the sweetest little angel boy who loved the outdoors in his younger days. His favorite thing was to camouflage himself in our 2 acre wooded backyard so we couldn’t find him. He was also a master of holding a spoon with canned food or peanut butter on it with his paws so he could lick it off. His best friend was our standard poodle, Honey, and she was his protector when they were boarded together. We will miss him every day.
