“ My sweet baby boy. I will miss your clumsiness. How you were constantly knocking things over. I will miss your plastic licking, even though it drove us crazy. I'll miss you plopping down on my chest and falling asleep. And waking up in the middle of the night to find you asleep on my pillow. I'll miss you running up and slapping one of the dogs. And I'll miss all your sweet cuddles. Our house isn't the same without you in it buddy. 17 years wasn't long enough. I hope you'll be waiting on me to find my way to you again one day. I love you so much baby.
