“ Sadie, I remember the first day I picked you put at Easterwood's so tiny , but perfectly made just for this family. There was weeks before you even made a sound, but when our neighbors cat came over , you barked until you hoarse.

The day you herded Heather's rabbits back into their cages , the day we left you alone an you destroyed a pillow , and little white styrofoam balls everywhere all stuck to you. 🐾

“ Sadie, you're my sweetheart sent from heaven to me and this family. Sadie , you left us so quickly, what impact you made on these heart's now you're back home with us again. Your not by my side waiting for me to throw the ball so you could chase it all over the yard.. Andbring it right back for to do it all again. The journey we shared together, trails we walked will not be for gotten you'll not be forgotten you'll remain always in my heart .
Love ❤️ You, Sadie Rae Salyers. RIP🐾
